As of Oct.2018 Norwegian Airlines will have 2 direct flights from Oslo to Ben Gurion Airport and WIZZ, the Hungarian low-cost airline is initiating a new winter route from London- to Eilat (in addition to the flights from Bucharest, Riga and Warsaw)

Everybody loves a markets (Shouk in Hebrew) ... The best-known markets are the Mahane Yehuda in Jerusalem and the Carmel in Tel Aviv... But there are many others that one shouldn't miss .. For the fun, flavour, smells culture! Levinsky Market (Shouk Levinsky) – in the heart of the Florentine neighbourhood * Jaffa Flea Market (Shouk Hapishpishim) known for antiques, shmontzkes, souvenirs * Tel Aviv Port - Friday's Organic Market * Sarona Market (indoor) focus on culinary adventure and a food court and restaurants & nearby Antique Market (Friday only)

And the bright news today !! Tel Aviv listed as 16th greenest city in the world - WOW!! 23% of Tel Aviv is comprised of green space, bike lanes, etc. And whilst here a visit to the Ariel Sharon Park should be included— an environmental park established on the (former waste dump) Huriya, located southeast of Tel Aviv
